Peaks Island STAR Policy

The Peaks Island STAR was begun 26 years ago at the library as a newsletter of the island service agencies. You can see on the arms of the starfish on the front page heading that those included the Health Center, the Day Care Center, the Library, Public Safety and the Senior Citizen Center.

Over the years, other non-profits have had their news in the STAR as well, and the STAR gives them a way to get their information out to the community. The STAR is not meant to provide a forum for partisan politics. To that end, beginning with this issue, the STAR will not include news from any group focused around the issue of secession. We have given this matter considerable thought, and the tipping point is that lobbyists have been hired and even when people are presenting factual information, it is with the intent to persuade others to adopt their point of view. Newspapers and websites are well suited to that job, but the STAR is not.

The websites of the two groups who have recently had articles in the STAR are:

www.islandindependence.org and www.peakssolutions.com

SENIOR NEWS

The Peaks Island Seniors met on March 12th for the monthly pot luck luncheon. As usual the meal was tasty and the conversation interesting.

The next pot luck luncheon will be held on Monday April 9th at 12 noon at the senior housing community room on Central Avenue.

We will be looking forward to seeing old friends and new friends.

Peaks Island Tax Assistance Committee

Islanders have just completed another round of tax payments and the Peaks Island Tax Assistance Committee would like to let all our generous contributors know how we are doing. Since our formation in 2005, we have paid out $14,622.00 dollars to fellow islanders. These are partial tax payments that cover what homeowners cannot. While all participants remain anonymous thanks to the efforts of the clergy who interview them and the Lead Cashier in the Finance Department Treasury Division, they span across all segments of our island community.

As we begin another summer full of new fundraising ideas, we would like to thank all those, both seasonal and year round residents, who have generously contributed $22,757.00 We hope we can continue to count on your support.

With such an important continuing mission ahead of us, we need new ideas and committee members. We meet once monthly for one hour only. We are now a 501C3 non-profit group and remain totally apolitical. Our focus is "Neighbor Helping Neighbors". If you are interested in working with us, please contact Cynthia Pedlikin, 766-0067.

Peaks Island School

Kindergarten and first grade students are now studying fossils, dinosaurs, and extinction theories through an integration of learning across all curriculum areas. Our young paleontologists have been making exciting hands-on discoveries from chiseling away plaster of Paris to find fossil imprints of shells and "dinosaurs" hidden by their teachers, creating their own insect fossils, and digging up bones (chicken-sized for now). Students also have been reading lots of nonfiction literature to learn about, compare, and classify dinosaurs from specific prehistoric periods. Which dinosaurs may have roamed Peaks Island – herbivores, carnivores, and/or omnivores? Ask a Peaks five, six, or seven-year old for clues!

With an emphasis on problem-solving, creativity, analysis, and research skills that align with the Maine Learning Results, grades two through five students have been studying inventions. We discovered that Peaks Island has its own resident inventor who holds over 90 fascinating items to his credit. Luna's dad, Jack Soley, treated our students to a wonderful presentation of his many inventions including a bird feeder with a one-way window (a.k.a. a "cat TV"), various toy kits sold commercially, and a life jacket made with radar-reflecting fabric that is now used by the U.S. Navy. With wide eyes watching, Jack explained that an inventor's challenge is to find out what people need, find a way to create a prototype, and then market the invention successfully -- valuable economic principles for our budding inventors!

All of us at Peaks Island School have been enjoying the warmer temperatures as we wait in anticipation of hardy bulbs to sprout soon. To raise awareness of breast cancer support and research, all elementary and middle schools within Portland Public Schools planted pink tulip bulbs last fall. State Master Gardener and island artist Lane Williamson worked with our 4th and 5th graders planting bulbs just inside the entrance of the playground so watch for lots of pink to bloom! May pink tulips everywhere be an important reminder for women to have regular breast exams and mammograms as we strive for early detection in the fight against breast cancer.

Happy Spring to All Islanders!

Peaks Island Children's Workshop 71 Herman Avenue (207) 766-2854

Island Rover camp information has been distributed. If you have questions please call Debbie at the workshop. Registration is due May 1.

We need your help in creating a Mosaic Mural during the July 30 art week. Sculptor and filmmaker Jo Israelson, a Portland native and long time PI summer visitor, will create a Memory Mural with campers using donated china plates, bowls, cups or pitchers and old unused tiles. Instead of discarding broken china or tiles in the landfill, deliver them to the Children's Workshop. Please include your name and a written description of the history of the broken item with your donation. On Memorial Weekend, Jo will be on the island to accept tiles and broken china for this project. Donations can also be left at the Workshop (safely stored in a box or paper bag, please). If you wish to make a monetary contribution in lieu of materials, please send it to the PI Children's Workshop.

Have you ever wondered where the PICW preschoolers are while we host the toddler group on Friday mornings? They take a field trip to the Peaks Island Branch of the Public Library where they enjoy story time. Staff members come back with an armload of books for them to listen to here at the Workshop each week. We are so appreciative of the wonderful collection available for us to choose from.

Mark your calendar:

- May 2 Parent information evening – Occupational Therapist Gail Kelly will talk about sensory integration. Look for posters with further information.
- May 8 PICW Open House 5-7 pm Come see what a fun place this is.
- Thursday night is Kid's Night at the Inn. Children's movies shown from 4-7. The Inn donates $2.00 to PICW from each $3.00 child's meal sold.

Registration for Peaks Island School '07-'08 Kindergartners will be held the week of April 23 – 27 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. When registering you will need to bring with you a copy of your child's birth certificate, his/her immunization record, and proof of residency. Kindergarten teacher Renee Dubois will host a special Open House for incoming Kindergartners to visit their future classroom on Wednesday, April 25 from 2:45 until 3:30 p.m. Parents may also complete registration forms at that time. PINA NEWS

NEXT PEAKS ISLAND NEIGHBORHOOD ASS'N GENERAL MEETING:
Tuesday, April 17, 7:30 PM at the Community Center

Agenda for the 4/17 meeting: The two developers vying for the Maine State Pier contract will present and discuss their plans. You will have a chance to express your views and ask questions.

At the March 20 PINA meeting, Catherine Debo, the new General Manager of Casco Bay Lines, was the featured speaker. She gave an overview of changes and activities at CBL since her arrival in January, then answered questions from the audience. She shared her e-mail address: cdebo@cascobaylines.com and encouraged people to contact her with their ideas and concerns.

Among the items of interest that came up in the discussion: During February, all boat personnel had refresher training classes, including testing, and this will be done regularly. There will be a questionnaire sent out in early summer to find out what improvements islanders would like to see. Three different bills have been introduced in the State Legislature, which, if passed, could get additional funding for CBL. CBL does have input regarding the Oceangate project, and has a strong interest in all aspects of it, especially traffic control and islander parking. CBL currently has two defibrillators and has plans to eventually have one on each boat, plus personnel trained to use them.

Reminder: Spring schedules will be available on April first. The new schedule, including the 15% rate increase, will go into effect on Saturday, April 14th.

As signs of spring appear here on the island, your Fifth Maine volunteers are busy preparing for another summer season of delicious community meals (think pancakes and chowdah!) and many other interesting activities including a Cabaret Nite with Peaks Island's own "Jack Nicholson" as our special guest. Comrades from other regiments will be here on July 21st to celebrate Civil War Day and, as always, the museum will welcome a growing number of visitors from all over the world. It takes a lot of people to make it all happen and we welcome your help. Perhaps you have a few spare hours to greet visitors, flip pancakes or hamburgers, set-up for the Wednesday evening programs; or help with building maintenance. If so, please contact Kim at 766-5514 or fifthmaine@juno.com. It's fun, you'll meet interesting people, and it's a worthwhile way to give back to the community.
